FAQs

How does the shed come?

The shed will arrive on a pallet delivered by a trusted courier. It will be delivered on an 18ton vehicle and a tail lift / pallet truck will unload the pallet. If there are any access problems for an 18ton vehicle (similar to the size of a bin wagon) then please advise us when placing the order so we are able to make alternative arrangements. It will be wheeled as far as possible, but is essentially a kerb side delivery.

How easy it is to assemble?

Although you will need your own tools (hammer, drill, spirit level etc), the shed is straight forward to put up. We recommend a two person assembly and you receive full comprehensive instructions with the shed. If you have any issues, then you can call Power Sheds and they will guide you through it over the phone.

Is there anything else I need?

Yes, you will need a firm and level base for the shed to go on. The shed comes with a T&G floor with floor joists on the underside to lift the building off the ground, but you will still need something firm and level for it to go on. This can be concrete, paving slabs, timber bearers or any other suitable firm and level base. If you have any questions on bases then please get in touch.
